BRAVE FANATICS.

Japanese Made Repeated and Reckless Attempts to Capture High Hill, Port Arthur.

WERE SWEEPED DOWN IN MASSES.

More Troops Went On, Leaping Over Dead Bodies of Their Comrades, Meeting Same Fate.

Later, the Russians Were Enticed From Their Shelters and the Japs Worked Havoc Among Them—An Appalling Scene.

London, Oct. 6.—The Daily Telegraph's Che Foo correspondent says that on September 24-25 the Japanese made repeated and recklessly brave attempts to capture High Hill at Port Arthur. Owing to the destruction of earthworks their advance was completely unprotected and under the rays of the searchlight the Russian machine guns swept them down in masses.

"More troops, however, came on with fanatical bravery," the correspondent adds, "leaping over the bodies of their dead comrades. Then the Russians, emboldened by their success, sortied. The Japanese replied with machine guns. It was the first time the Japanese had been able to entice the Russians from their shelters and they worked terrible havoc among them."

"The scene next morning was appalling. The hillside was strewn with mangled Russian and Japanese bodies, some of them gripped with ghastly realism. Boulders were trickling with blood."

"A brief message was received today. It is on torn paper, in Chinese, and signed by Gen. Stoessel. It states that all had been quiet since September 25 and that the Japanese again had asked for and were refused a truce to bury their dead."

"An official Japanese statement admits the repulse and confesses the necessity of a resort to a passive siege. 'Enteric fever has broken out in the garrison at Port Arthur.'"

Berlin, Oct. 6.—A dispatch to the Lokal Anzeiger from Mukden says: "Gen. Kuropatkin has expressed a firm determination to avail himself of this favorable season of the year for military action. Everything points to a coming revenge for Liao Yang. The officers and men hope that the period of retreats is past and that they will be led against the enemy. The Japanese undoubtedly intended September 27 to attack in three columns from the collieries at Yantai, along the imperial road, but they desisted when they discovered that the Russians fronting them numbered 60,000 men."

TWO SAFE BLOWERS SENTENCED

One Was Suspended and Prisoner Turned Over to Alabama Officers.

Tavares, Fla., Oct. 6.—France Duncan and his partner, "Kid" Stafford, were convicted in the circuit court here of blowing the safe of the Leburg bank and were sentenced to the penitentiary for 15 years—the full limit for that offense. Sentence on Duncan was suspended and he was turned over to the Alabama authorities to be taken to Birmingham, where he was convicted of the murder of two policemen and sentenced to hang.

OWING TO HARD TIMES.

Fifty Thousand People Are Facing Starvation in Manchester.

London, Oct. 6.—At a meeting of the Manchester city council Wednesday it was announced that, owing to the hard times and depression in the cotton industries, 50,000 people in the poorer parts of the city were practically on the verge of starvation.

Similar conditions prevail in London and other large cities of the United Kingdom where the winter is expected to be one of the hardest in many years for the poorer classes.

All of the Ten Designs Are in the Hands of the Jury.

Canton, O., Oct. 6.—All of the ten designs for the McKinley memorial are in the hands of the jury, composed of Walter Cook and Daniel French, of New York, and R. S. Peabody, of Boston. E. W. Bloomingdale, of the committee on design, writes that all the members of the committee had been heard from excepting Cornelius N. Bliss, and as soon as word is received from him a meeting of the trustees will be called. The members of the committee on design are: Gov. Franklin Murphy, of New Jersey; William McConway, Pittsburg, Pa.; Cornelius N. Bliss, and E. W. Bloomingdale, New York, and William A. Lynch, Canton.

According to Secretary Hartzell, the meeting will probably be called in a few days. At this session it is officially stated, the design will undoubtedly be chosen and the architect employed. The meeting will probably take place in New York.

A WOMAN'S STORY.

Says Her Companion Killed a Man in An Abandoned House.

Holden, Mo., Oct. 6.—Mrs. Anna J. Bentley, whose home is in Tennessee, Wednesday took Sheriff Hughes, of Cass county, to an abandoned house near here, where the dead body of a man was found in a well. Mrs. Bentley told the sheriff that she had witnessed the man killed four months ago.

The body was that of Carl Miller, and Mrs. Bentley states that he was killed by a man with whom she was traveling from St. Louis to Kansas in a buggy. She declares that at Warrensburg, Mo., they met Miller and that as he had a team of horses and large wagon they induced him to allow them to accompany him as he was driving in their direction.

Mrs. Bentley says after Miller had been killed her companion declared that he would also kill her unless she swore not to reveal the crime during her life.

THE TUBERCULOSIS CONGRESS.

Dr. Fred Kohlbenheier States That Consumption Can Not Be Cured.

St. Louis, Oct. 6.—That phthisis of the lungs can not be cured was the statement made by Dr. Fred Kohlbenheier, of St. Louis, who explained the discoveries of Prof. Otto Von Shroen, of the Royal university of Naples. Prof. Von Shroen was unable to be present and sent his paper to be read. Prof. Von Shroen explained that a patient suffering from consumption could live for years in apparent health, but under favorable circumstances the germ of the disease would become active and destroy the lung tissues. In cases of phthisis of the lungs, the professor said, he had discovered a new germ, which, together with the germ that had hitherto been known to doctors to destroy all animal life, existed only in the cases of phthisis of the lungs.

UNIVERSAL PEACE.

Resolutions Intended to Bring an End to the Russo-Japanese War Adopted.

TWO RULERS TO BE APPEALED TO.

Each of the Powers Signatory to the Hague Convention Will Be Formally Requested to Act.

The Most Intense Applause That Has Been Evoked Thus Far in the International Congress Greeted Baba Bharati, a Hindoo.

Boston, Oct. 6.—Resolutions intended to bring about, if possible, an end to the Russo-Japanese war were adopted at the meeting of the International Peace congress. By the terms of these resolutions the congress will address an appeal to the emperors of Russia and Japan to terminate the struggle, and each of the powers signatory to The Hague convention will be formally requested to press upon Russia and Japan the importance of putting an end to the present war.

It was also voted that the resolutions referring to friendly intervention by the powers be presented to President Roosevelt by a committee of the congress.

The resolutions were passed after a lengthy discussion in which many of the most prominent foreign delegates participated.

During the discussion Delegate William R. Cremer, of England, took occasion, while favoring the declarations, to characterize the treaty between England and Japan as a blunder, and to charge that this treaty doubtless had much to do in bringing on the Russo-Japanese war. Thereupon Great Britain's policy of being a party to the treaty was vigorously defended by Col. Bryce Jones, M. P.

The deliberative proceedings of the day took on an added interest from the fact that a leading Hindoo, Baba Bharati, was introduced to speak as the representative of his country. The most intense applause that has ever been evoked thus far during the convention greeted the Hindoo, who, dressed in the costume of his people, delivered a passionate speech, in excellent English, denouncing on the one hand the attempt of Christianity to thrust Christianity upon India as its religion, and the policy of the English people of India of invading Tibet. It was voted during the session to refer the subject of a reconciliation of France and Germany on the Alsace-Lorraine question to the Berne bureau for study by a special committee.

Part of the phraseology of the cablegram prepared to be sent to Andrew Carnegie was objected to by a delegate from New York and it was finally rewritten so that Mr. Carnegie was hailed as an earnest worker for the world's better political order instead of a worker for the world's "just and rational organization."

Three public meetings under the auspices of the congress were held Wednesday night. One was for workingmen in Faneuil hall, where the principal speaker was Samuel Gompers, the president of the American Federation of Labor. At Park Street church a meeting was held by the women delegates to the congress. The duties of women in the peace cause was considered by several speakers, chief among them being Baroness von Suttner, of Austria.

TO PROHIBIT POLYGAMY.

Methodist Missionary Women Favor Congressional Action.

Denver, Col., Oct. 6.—The Women's Home Missionary society of the Methodist church went on record in favor of congressional action against polygamy. A resolution introduced by Mrs. F. A. Aiken, of Cincinnati, recording secretary, calling upon congress to submit to the people an amendment to the constitution of the United States prohibiting the practice of polygamy was unanimously adopted amid cheers, and Mrs. Aiken was accorded a marked demonstration of approval.

It Was Won in Two Straight Heats By Bon Voyage.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 6.—The two-year-old division of the Kentucky Futurity was won by Von Boyage in two straight heats in 2:15 and 2:15 1/4, and with the exception of the record of 2:14 made by Katherine A two years ago, it was the best record for the event. Bon Voyage was owned and driven by Charles Marvin, of Lexington. The event is worth $5,000, of which $3,000 goes to the winner.

In the third race the favorite, The Broncho, and her driver and owner, were suspended a year for laying up. The Broncho paced second to Don N in the first two heats. The judges were suspicious and when Charles Dean drove out for the third heat they unseated him and put A. F. McDonald behind his mare, McDonald winning the next three heats. Both horse and driver were then suspended and McDonald was awarded $250.

Ozanum, by breaking, gave the second heat of the 2:07 trotting race to McKinley, but finally won the race. The favorite, Nancy H, surrendered the first heat of the 2:14 pace to Funston, but won the race in the next three heats.

The track was in good condition, but a high wind prevented Major Delmar from starting against time.

A REWARD OFFERED.

A Negro Arrested on Suspicion at Lexington, Ky.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 6.—Upon suspicion of being the principal in a murder committed five years ago Eli Booker, alias Bob Booker, a Negro, 32, was arrested Wednesday. The prisoner is believed to be the man who shot and killed Julian Smith, the station agent of the Atlantic Seaboard Air Line in Putnam, Fla. There is a reward of $1,000 for his arrest and conviction. T. B. About 50 Officials of the Department, Including Chiefs of Divisions, Will Attend Funeral, Representing the P. O. Department.

Washington, Oct. 6.—President Roosevelt called Wednesday at the apartments of the late postmaster general to extend his personal condolences. A vast number of telegrams were received from all over the country, a large portion of them coming from Wisconsin. A request has been made by friends in Milwaukee of the family that consent be given for a public service in that city.

Invitations to the funeral will be extended to public officials, the diplomatic corps, the judiciary, district officials and friends of the family. The army and navy will be represented. Gen. Chaffee sent his aide to tender a military escort. The committee will arrange the order of seating.

Members of the cabinet in Washington at the time of the funeral services will act as honorary pall bearers.

Secretaries Hitchcock and Wilson have indicated their intention to accompany the remains to Milwaukee, and Secretary Metcalf, who is coming home from California, expects to reach Milwaukee in time to attend the funeral services there. The active pall bearers will be composed of uniformed letter carriers.

Mrs. Payne has accepted the offer of Gen. Chaffee to detail a military escort for the remains from the church to the railroad station in Washington. The escort also will act as a guard to the remains at the station until they are brought from the church until the train carrying them to Milwaukee leaves Washington at half-past 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

Among those sending messages of condolence were Senators Foraker and Dick, George R. Peck, Myron T. Herrick, Mrs. Quay and Mrs. Hanna, who said: "I know how to mourn with you, and I do from the bottom of my heart," and Arthur Donoghue, president of the United National Association of Post Office clerks.

It was decided that Second Assistant Postmaster General Shallenberger should represent the post office department at the funeral of Mr. Payne at Milwaukee. At the services here about 50 officials of the department, including chiefs of divisions, will attend the funeral as representatives of the post office department.

The official Daily Bulletin, of the postal service, Wednesday appeared in heavy mourning and contained the official order of Acting Postmaster General Wynne, announcing the death of Mr. Payne and prescribing the observance of the funeral hours by postal employees.

EVENING BULLETIN.

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.
ROSSER & MCCARTHY,
Proprietors.
THURSDAY, OCTOBER 6, 1904.

Fair to-night and Friday.

THE BULLETIN's tip gave some promise in the earlier stages of yesterday's event and might have captured the stakes had he not broke at the quarter. As it was, the flag dropped just as Billy C. glided under the wire, an easy winner.

THE fun was fast and furious while it lasted. Could the mill have been kept going until the Major recovered his wind, there might have been some compensation for us fellows who are compelled to miss the St. Louis show.

ROOSEVELT'S PEACE POLICY.

The question: Is the United States being prepared for war? may well be asked. Joseph Pulitzer in his open letter to President Roosevelt, says:

"We are spending more money now on our navy than any other country in the world, except England; a third more on our army than Austria-Hungary, with nearly 400,000 men under arms, and twice as much as Japan in time of peace, and more on army, navy and pensions than is spent for the same purposes by any of the overloaded military powers of continental Europe without exception. Our navy is costing us $98,000,000 this year. France, hitherto the second naval power in the world, is spending $61,000,000 on hers, and Germany, under our illustrious counterpart, the Emperor, $50,000,000. On its face, our activity looks as if we were preparing for certain war.

"We are building thirteen battleships to England's ten, Germany's seven and France's six, and thirteen great armored cruisers, practically battleships, to England's sixteen, France's six and Germany's two. We are just finishing half a dozen smaller cruisers. We have more first-class battleships already built than any other country in the world except England, and the English editor of Brassey's Naval Annual says that in ten years at the present rate we shall displace Great Britain as the first naval power of the globe. Yet you keep prodding us on. How much do you want? Fifty years ago our navy consisted of a few wooden frigates, and our peaceful merchant fleets covered the seas. To-day we have over 600,000 tons of steel battleships and cruisers, and our merchant marines in the foreign trade has shrunk until it is hardly larger than the navy that is supposed to protect it."

"I am not speaking to Democrats—this is not a party matter. Your schemes are personal, not partisan. Your boasted Americanism is really Europeanism. It is the very antithesis of the true American spirit. You are proposing to Europeanize our institutions. Not content with the extraordinary increase in the powers and patronage of the President of the United States, you propose to become practically the President of the whole Western Hemisphere. The accidental head of one republic, you would make yourself the head of twenty-one. In the name of James Monroe, the strict constructionist of the Constitution, and under a hypocritical pretense of duty, you assume prerogatives that would turn Hamilton pale and that would make Monroe rise in his grave. I defy any of your eulogists, from the brilliant and distinguished Whitelaw Reid downward, to show one line in the writings of any previous President of any party justifying your proposed suzerainty over the Western Hemisphere. But if you fail to find any warrant for your policy in the Constitution of the United States or the practice of your predecessors, you may find it abundantly in the quarter from which you borrowed the policy itself—in Europe." [Jos. Pulitzer in New York World.]

A Gallipolis special says the crew of the steamer Laneville ran into a school of catfish at Raccoon Island. The buckets were torn from the boat's wheels and Captain Hamilton was compelled to land. One fish, weighing ninety-two pounds, which the boat had pushed onto shore, was captured.

The Portsmouth Times is responsible for this: "A veracious citizen telephones that he saw a mighty cloud rising over the Ohio, and upon rushing to the river bank, he found it was merely dust raised by the Greyhound on her regular trip from Ironton to Portsmouth. We knew the Ohio was getting pretty dry, but we were not quite prepared for that sort of a statement."

The company now playing a week's engagement at the opera house continue to give satisfaction, though the attendance is not what it should be.

HAPPILY WEDDED.

Miss Etta B. Hooper of the West End and Mr. Sidney P. Powell of Winchester Married Wednesday.

The large double parlor was profusely decorated with pretty flowers and under a handsome arch of roses and other bloom the happy couple plighted their troth, Miss Nellie Hooper, sister of the bride, presiding at the piano and playing the wedding march as they entered.

After the ceremony there were congratulations, music and refreshments. Mr. and Mrs. Powell were then driven to the C. and O. station, where the afternoon west-bound train was taken for an extended bridal tour, which includes a trip to Niagara Falls.

The following guests from out of town were present: Mr. and Mrs. James Powell, Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Powell, Miss Ida Parrish, Mrs. H. D. Stevenson and daughter Pauline, all of Winchester; Miss Leonora Rice of Elizaville and Rev. W. S. Gamboe of Ashland.

A HOT OLD TIME.

Republican Factions Clash at the Court House Wednesday Afternoon.

The Political Pot Boiled Over As the Leaders On Both Sides Indulged in Personalities.

Monday was an extremely warm day for the fifth of October.

The high temperature was not so noticeable in the forenoon, but about 1 o'clock the atmosphere began to get "muggy," and from a point at the head of Court street it was evident that a political storm was brewing.

There had been a call for a Republican county meeting to select delegates to the Congressional convention to be held this morning at 11 o'clock and promptly at the hour named a large crowd of the faithful began to assemble at the court house.

The BULLETIN had given out the tip that Mayor Stallcup would be named as the unanimous choice of the convention for Congress, but the little crowds of excited politicians here and there indicated that there was going to be a contest by the opposing faction.

There was some little delay in opening up the mill, but finally County Chairman Stallcup called the convention to order and explained the object of the meeting.

The usual formality of electing a temporary Chairman was gone through with and the fun began when nominations for Permanent Chairman were called for.

Somebody named Mr. Andrew January, and Mr. Will Cochran promptly offered the name of Mr. W. H. Wadsworth. Without waiting for the Chair to take any action, Mr. Cochran began to direct a division of the house.

It was at this point that real hostilities began.

Judge Hutchins was on the firing line of the minority side of the house, and with considerable alacrity he mounted a chair, waving his arms wildly about in an endeavor to command silence so that he could be heard.

WILLIE AND THE JUDGE WERE ON THE FIRING LINE SENDING HOT SHOT AT EACH OTHER.

Mr. Cochran and his lusty braves shouted themselves hoarse in an endeavor to drown out anything that the wrothy Major might say, but they were only partly successful.

Mr. Hutchins made a pretty strong accusation against someone on the opposite side. Pointing his finger majestically in that direction he shouted: "Why, he gave one hundred dollars to help elect a Democratic Judge."

Bedlam broke loose again and when quiet was partly restored Mr. Devine attempted to put in his oar, but was promptly sat down on by Mr. Cochran, who seemed to be the "hot tamale" of the convention. Frank retorted with some pointed insinuations, and matters began to get so personal that the BULLETIN scribe sought cover.

While the melee was yet in full blast, Mr. Wadsworth was declared elected.

Finally the uproar subsided when it was seen that the Chair had something to say. In a few well-chosen words of polite sarcasm, Mr. Wadsworth declared he had no apology to make for the political enemies he has made, insinuating that sometimes it is to a man's advantage to make such enemies.

The convention settled down to business again by electing Editor Davis Permanent Secretary.

Mr. Sam Hickman offered a resolution declaring Mayor Stallcup the unanimous choice of the convention for Congress.

Secretary Davis had no sooner read it, than he moved, with some emphasis, that it be laid upon the table.

Mr. Cochran spoke for Mr. Stallcup, declining the honor. The Mayor also addressed the convention, saying that he had not authorized the use of his name, that it was entirely against his wish and requested a withdrawal of the resolution.

By this time the goose pimples were standing out thick on Mr. Hickman's face and neck, and he explained that he offered the resolution as a compliment to Mr. Stallcup, no one else seeming to want the honor, and that he had no idea it would meet with such opposition, therefore he withdrew it.

Mr. Cochran ("Willie," of course) then offered a resolution recognizing Judge Bennett's candidacy, named all good Republicans as delegates, instructed them to vote as a unit, and the convention adjourned.

CHOKING CATARRH CURED.

Mr. Caswell Says, "Hyomei Cured Me"—
Your Money Back if it Does Not Cure You.

"Use Hyomei and be cured of catarrh," is what all who have tried it for that disease say to their friends.

O. S. Caswell of North Middleboro, Mass., writes: "Hyomei has relieved me from a choking catarrhal trouble and cleared my head. I am glad to recommend it to my friends."

It is the easiest thing in the world to stop catarrh or a catarrhal cold at its beginning if you use Hyomei. Just breathe the health-giving, balsamic air for a few minutes and your catarrh will be cured.

In this and neighboring towns, there are hundreds that can testify to the remarkable powers of Hyomei to cure catarrh. Many of the staunchest friends of this remedy began its use with little hope that they would be cured, but as J. Jas. Wood & Son offered to refund the money if it did not benefit, they decided to try it on that plan, and were soon restored to health.

A special from Ripley says Miss Hatie Henry, daughter of Colonel T. C. Henry, a prominent farmer, was the victim of an attempted assault Monday night at her home, two miles north of town. Hearing a noise in the kitchen at 10 o'clock, she went to the back door, when she was seized by two unknown men, who threw a hood or sack over her head and she was dragged to some bushes near the house. Her parents coming out frightened the assaulters, who jumped in a buggy and drove away. Miss Henry was found unconscious and with a badly lacerated throat. She is in a critical condition.

As the approaching performance of the most brilliant of all the Shakespeare comedies "Twelfth Night" draws near, the interest increases and the demand for seats during the past few days has been considerable, showing that when the company appears here Monday, October 10th, a well filled house will greet them.
